

Path Forward Community Fund Application

The objective of the Path Forward Community Fund is to support the self-determination of safety planning in Indigenous communities and address systemic, Indigenous-specific causes of gender-based violence through capacity-building and community planning.

The distribution of medium-size grants will be guided by an adjudication committee of diverse Indigenous People(s) that reflect the perspectives and experiences of on- and off-reserve individuals, disabled community members, Indigenous men and boys, LGBTQA2S+ folks, Elders and youth, First Nations, Inuit, Métis, and non-status communities.

Eligible uses for Path Forward funds include:

- i. Building capacity
- ii. Hosting engagement and facilitation
- iii. Support to develop crisis response plans
- iv. Materials for communication plans
- v. Information sharing and tools to navigate the justice and public safety systems
- vi. Culturally appropriate safety training
- vii. Healing and Cultural Support
